The Shreveport-Bossier Business Alliance for Higher Education (SBBA) hosted a summit on Thursday morning.

The group says state budget cuts threaten jobs and our local economic future. Legislators are looking at all aspects to find a solution.

"I think we recognize there's some structural changes we can make to fix it, but it's not going to be easy and it's not going to be a fix that gets them all of what they want, but some of what they want," said Sen. Robert Adley.

The legislative session begins April 13.
